

EMPLOYEE GIVING PROGRAM

Welcome to the team at Karis Disability Services, where we help people who experience disabilities belong to communities in which their God-given gifts are valued and celebrated. I trust it has been a rewarding experience working with us. Now that you have seen what our Canadian ministry is all about, I'm excited to tell you how you can impact our work with people internationally.

In communities challenged by poverty, children with disabilities are the most vulnerable. Caregivers must weigh the risks of leaving a child at home alone to enter the workforce or stay at home and risk hunger. The supports and services that we take for granted in Canada are not available in most countries. For example, 90% of children with disabilities do not have access to education in developing nations.

Karis Disability Services is active and partnering with in-country organizations in six developing nations, working with people with disabilities and whole communities. Through inclusive education and sustainable development, we equip families and communities to earn a livelihood and care for one another. All of our global work is funded by donations. We invite you to learn more about this exciting work on our website and consider joining us in supporting this charitable work of changing lives and nurturing communities of belonging.

Here are two ways that you can do that:

- Be a Monthly Partner by donating $15 a month
- Sponsor a Child by donating $41 a month

Please consider joining the thousands of donors who support this work. While many of our donors are employees, please know that participating in our Employee Giving Program is entirely optional and not connected to your employment relationship with Karis Disability Services. We want you to be aware of all the opportunities to be involved in this extraordinary work.

Sincerely,

Mark Wallace, Executive Director of Organizational Culture and International Partnership
